Dear Dean Altman,

I received your name from the Obama Campaign indicating you are one of three men managing his health care plan. I have been working on health care reform for some years but as I read your background I think I have come from a totally different perspective than you.

I think I have something to offer in our quest for reform and am available at anytime to help you with items that might be made clear from a practicing physician's viewpoint and one who has experience in medical administration. I am enclosing a short book I have published on the topic which will make the last sentence clear and an article that will be published September 1. My website has past archived writings at www.healthsecurityamerica.com. I await your reply.

Sincerely,

Fred Bannister, M.D.
